

Australia: Benefits at a Glance

Eligibility: For permanent and fixed-term employees (Full and Part-Time) of Amazon Entities in Australia ("Amazon") unless otherwise specified.

Amazon employees working in Australia are eligible to enroll in a range of supplementary benefits described below. In addition to the benefits provided by Amazon below, employees are eligible for certain Social Security benefits from Australia.

This overview provides basic information on these supplementary benefits and where to find information on statutory benefits. The supplementary benefits provided by Amazon are in addition to your statutory benefits. All coverage may be subject to any applicable registration and medical underwriting, and employees are liable for any taxes due as a result of receiving these benefits, unless specified otherwise.

Additional information and the latest policies are available from your first day on our employee intranet, Amazon A to Z.

Health Insurance

Amazon offers a voluntary health insurance scheme that is open to permanent employees and fixed-term employees (with contract terms greater than 6 months) and their eligible dependents. This scheme is provided by GU Health. Under the scheme (if you are eligible), Amazon will pay 80% of the insurance premium with GU Health (before government rebates are applied, if applicable).

You will, however, be responsible for paying any premium balance and/or any premium costs associated with "Lifetime Health Cover" loadings.

There are 3 different plans offered by GU Health – your eligibility for each plan varies depending on your residence status in Australia and your country of origin:

1. Resident Plan: Must hold a Green or Blue (Interim) Medicare Card. Only for Australian residents and Permanent Residents (PR).
2. Non-resident RHCA plan: Must hold a Yellow Medicare Card. Only for employees from countries with a Reciprocal Health Care Agreement (RHCA) with Australia [United Kingdom, Norway, Finland, Malta, Italy, New Zealand, The Republic of Ireland, Sweden, Belgium, The Netherlands and Slovenia].
3. Non-resident Non-RHCA plan: No Medicare. Only for overseas employees from non-RHCA countries.

Important: Read through the insurance information on the Australia Benefits page on our Amazon A to Z Intranet Benefit page (on Amazon network) to understand the terms and conditions (such as waiting period) before enrolling. Participation in a subsidized medical plan may have tax implications and may affect your annual tax return. Amazon cannot give you any financial or tax advice regarding the above benefits. You are strongly advised to seek independent financial advice regarding the costs and taxation implications associated with the above benefits.

This summary provides an overview of the main provisions of the benefits programs for employees in Amazon entities in Australia, unless otherwise stated. Full details are found in the Amazon A to Z Australia pages and, for insured benefits, the applicable insurance policy(s). This summary is not a legally binding document. If there is discrepancy between this information and either applicable legislation or the plan or policy documents, the legislation or the plan or policy documents will prevail in all cases. Participation in Amazon's benefits does not constitute a contract of employment. For insured benefits, only the insurer and not Amazon is liable for the benefits. Amazon reserves the right to modify or terminate any portion of the Amazon benefits program and/or any of its policies at any time with or without notice. Last updated: January, 2026 (Amazon Australia Benefits).

Life/Total Permanent Disability & Salary Continuance Insurance

Life Insurance and Salary Continuance Insurance are provided to all permanent employees and fixed-term employees (with contract terms greater than 6 months), and are fully subsidized by Amazon. Eligible employees will be enrolled in the scheme from their first day of employment with Amazon.

Life Insurance provides financial protection and support to an employee/family by providing a lump sum payment in the event of an employee's death, terminal illness or total and permanent disability. Subject to the applicable policy documents, a lump sum equal to 3 times the employee's annual base salary, subject to an automatic acceptance limit of AUD 2,200,500 (without medical underwriting) and a maximum of AUD 5m for TPD will be paid.

Salary Continuance Insurance, also known as Income Protection Insurance, provides income protection for an employee in the event of illness or injury. Upon meeting the disability terms/definitions in the policy and if an employee is unable to work as a result of an illness or injury after a waiting period of 90 days; the employee will be eligible for up to 75% of their base salary, subject to an automatic acceptance limit of AUD 17,500 per month (without medical underwriting) and a maximum of AUD 30,000 per month.

Retirement and Savings

Amazon contributes 12% of Ordinary Time Earnings towards the eligible employee's choice of superannuation fund (up to the contribution cap). This applies to full-time and part-time employees and some casual employees, and includes temporary residents.

- Superannuation guarantee contribution rate – for income year 1 July 2025 to 30 June 2026, the contribution rate is 12%.
- Maximum super contribution base - for income year 2025 to 2026, the limit is AU$62,500 per quarter, which is equivalent to AU$250,000 per year.

Commuter Benefits

Regular full -time and part-time Amazon Australia employees are eligible for the commuter benefit. Interns, contractors, casual employees, and Retail and FC employees (working in a physical store or Fulfillment Center) are not eligible.

Amazon subsidizes commuting costs for all eligible employees for a combination of public transportation and corporate office parking. Employees can submit a combination of up to 50% corporate office parking and 100% public transport costs up to a monthly maximum amount (cost table available in our Amazon A to Z Intranet Benefit page on Amazon network). Any expense reimbursements must be submitted within 90 days of the date on receipt.

Employee Assistance Program (EAP)

The Employee Assistance Program (EAP) is a counseling and referral service for employees and their family members. It is available by phone 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. EAP services are free of charge, confidential and anonymous. Visit our Amazon A to Z Intranet Benefit page (on Amazon network).

This summary provides an overview of the main provisions of the benefits programs for employees in Amazon entities in Australia, unless otherwise stated. Full details are found in the Amazon A to Z Australia pages and, for insured benefits, the applicable insurance policy(s). This summary is not a legally binding document. If there is discrepancy between this information and either applicable legislation or the plan or policy documents, the legislation or the plan or policy documents will prevail in all cases. Participation in Amazon's benefits does not constitute a contract of employment. For insured benefits, only the insurer and not Amazon is liable for the benefits. Amazon reserves the right to modify or terminate any portion of the Amazon benefits program and/or any of its policies at any time with or without notice. Last updated: January, 2026 (Amazon Australia Benefits).

Workplace Options Virtual Pediatric Program

The Workplace Options Virtual Pediatric Care Program offers free access of up to 5 sessions to pediatric and specialized mental health services, for family and household member(s) from the ages of 18 months to 17 years old. From short-term counseling to practical support, this program covers a broad spectrum of behavioral health needs, ensuring comprehensive care for children and teens facing challenges such as sleep disruption, behavioral issues, transitions, bullying, ADHD, Autism Spectrum Disorders (ASD), anxiety, depression, trauma, and more. All Amazonians have access to free support from a licensed provider in 24 hours or less to support their child's well-being.

Family-building Benefit

The family-building benefit with Maven is designed for employees looking to grow their families through fertility treatment, adoption, or other ways. Maven provides free unlimited access to expert virtual care, coaching, and resources to support all paths to parenthood. The Maven benefit is inclusive of all family types and does not require an infertility diagnosis to use. The guidance and level of support from Maven will align with local regulations and customs. All blue-badge employees and their spouses/ domestic partners are eligible for this benefit.

Family Care

Amazon offers a family care benefit to make it easier for you to find reliable care for your loved ones. Amazon partners with Babysits to offer eligible employees' free access to a premium Babysits subscription. Babysits offer occasional, short or long-term, backup, weekend, evening and special needs child care. With Babysits, you can easily search, connect and book babysitters and nannies.

Employee Discount Code (EDC)

Amazon offers a 10% discount up to USD 100 (or equivalent value) per year on specific Amazon website domain. The discount applies to products shipped and sold by Amazon.

Business Travel Insurance

Amazon provides insurance coverage for medical benefits abroad and business travel accident for both international and domestic travel. Amazon has contracted with the 3 leading companies in the International medical insurance, evacuation, and assistance industry: International SOS, Cigna Global Health Benefits, and Chubb. Amazon's program provides eligible employees with:

- Access to pre-departure medical and security information from International SOS
- 24-hour access to International SOS security information & services or SOS physicians for advice & referral when you travel outside your home country
- Medical and security evacuation services
- Business Travel Accident Insurance (domestic and international coverage)

Amazon Extras

Amazon Extras is a discount program for goods and services including travel, tickets, restaurants, entertainment, home & family, finance, wellbeing and more. All discounts are available on MyBenefits.

This summary provides an overview of the main provisions of the benefits programs for employees in Amazon entities in Australia, unless otherwise stated. Full details are found in the Amazon A to Z Australia pages and, for insured benefits, the applicable insurance policy(s). This summary is not a legally binding document. If there is discrepancy between this information and either applicable legislation or the plan or policy documents, the legislation or the plan or policy documents will prevail in all cases. Participation in Amazon's benefits does not constitute a contract of employment. For insured benefits, only the insurer and not Amazon is liable for the benefits. Amazon reserves the right to modify or terminate any portion of the Amazon benefits program and/or any of its policies at any time with or without notice. Last updated: January, 2026 (Amazon Australia Benefits).

Annual Leave

Employees in Australia are entitled to:

- ✓ 20 days of paid annual leave for each year of service with Amazon, or
- ✓ 25 days of paid annual leave if you are a 24 x 7 shift worker (see Data Centre Shift Policy).

If you are a part-time employee, your annual leave entitlement will be pro-rated.

Leaves of Absence

Maternity/Adoption Leave

The birth mother or adoptive parent (the primary caregiver) is eligible for paid maternity/adoption leave for up to 14 consecutive weeks in relation to the birth or adoption of a child. Birth mothers have the discretion and flexibility to take up to 4 of these weeks prior to the expected date of birth.

Parental Leave

Employees with at least 1 year of continuous service with Amazon, by the date the child is born or legally adopted, are eligible for paid parental leave for up to 6 weeks within the first year of a child's birth or adoption. Further, Amazon's Leave Share policy allows an Amazon employee to effectively "share" any unused weeks (of the 6 weeks available) with their spouse or domestic partner (subject to the employee meeting the applicable eligibility criteria).

Eligible employees can elect to work on a flexible working schedule, which gives the employee the opportunity to transition back to work at the end of their Maternity/Adoption Leave and/or Parental Leave period.

Statutory benefits

In addition to the benefits provided by Amazon, employees are also eligible for certain statutory benefits, including

- Public holidays: The dates will vary depending on the state or territory where the employee works.
- Sick and carer's leave: 10 days paid leave each year for full time employees. Part time employees get a pro rata of 10 days each year, depending on their hours of work.
- Compassionate leave: 2 days for each instance where leave may be taken (which, in the case of full time and part time employees, is paid leave).
- Long service leave: The entitlement will vary depending on the state or territory long service leave law that applies.

This summary provides an overview of the main provisions of the benefits programs for employees in Amazon entities in Australia, unless otherwise stated. Full details are found in the Amazon A to Z Australia pages and, for insured benefits, the applicable insurance policy(s). This summary is not a legally binding document. If there is discrepancy between this information and either applicable legislation or the plan or policy documents, the legislation or the plan or policy documents will prevail in all cases. Participation in Amazon's benefits does not constitute a contract of employment. For insured benefits, only the insurer and not Amazon is liable for the benefits. Amazon reserves the right to modify or terminate any portion of the Amazon benefits program and/or any of its policies at any time with or without notice. Last updated: January, 2026 (Amazon Australia Benefits).